When I start my car morning noon or evening, I have to let it warm up from 10-15 minutes. It will then drive ok for about 47 miles and then it will lose pulling power. I have to pull over turn the car off and when I start it again it is usually good for another 5-10 miles. If the check engine light comes on when it happens, I have to clear the codes. I have a 1999 323i auto transmission.
