"Extreme fine-tuning would be required for life to exist more commonly in the universe, of course, but it is also required for life to exist at all – even just on the tiny speck of dust on which it does exist."

The Fine-Tuning Argument, Generalized

William Lane Craig is a prolific Christian philosopher, apologist, author, and public debater. He is the best debater – on any topic – that I've ever heard. As far as I can tell, he has won nearly all his debates with atheists. When debating him, atheists have consistently failed to put forward solid arguments, and consistently failed to point out the flaws in Craig's arguments.

10 Presuppositionalists know that one cannot prove the existence of God and that the so-called "theistic proofs" are logically invalid. Proving the existence of God is also irrelevant since awareness of God's existence is innate to man as the image of God. From the beginning Adam could communicate with God and was responsible to God because he knew God.

Not paying attention, I picked up a package of ground pork that turned out to be 95% lean. The horror. I might as well have used tofu. Nonetheless, I loved the flavor, but implore you to use regular ground beef, and ground pork with a 75/25 lean-to-fat ratio. Do that, and you'll be enjoying a plate of meatballs even the world's most under appreciated celebrity chef would love.
